Just so you know that we have more edits in case you get blow back from Brittany or Kevin on tone. Marthea and the team are going to do one more run through on top of mine. We gave R10 directions but there was so much traffic on the letter, as mentioned before we didn't get a full read until today.

Ugh – I did not want to spend my Friday looking at this but it wasn't as clean as I hoped (mainly the tone in the water stuff)

Here's my edits now that it is all together.

I don't know if you have more to send back on Monday

I know they won't like it but I couldn't give a full read on tone with all the back and forth this week. I gave a heads up to Rob that I would have edits and I want us to let Brittany know that we have tonal edits as I know she'll be sensitive to that so if any of you see more that you want to edit on now that it is more complete. I don't want to remove comments but I do want to tone down things. Let me know.

I'll take the heat with Rebecca.

Cindy
